

PRESS RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE CIRCULATION 1st JAN 2010

CBA Limited and Spindlewood Limited, two of the UK's leading event technology suppliers, have announced that they are to merge.

CBA has been the UK market leader in telephone and IT networks for events since 2006 and services many festivals including Glastonbury, Reading, Leeds, V festivals, T in the Park, Download, Wireless Festival and many more. CBA also supplies the most comprehensive real-time network noise management systems currently available, supplying mission critical noise control for many music festivals and for industrial and construction industry applications.

Spindlewood specialises in wireless CCTV and security systems and lists V Festivals, Download and Wireless amongst many other events in their calendar. The company is equipped with cutting edge security camera systems and monitoring technology. Spindlewood is also very active in the construction industry, providing managed security systems for sites and for completed projects.

Chris Beale comments: "The merger of CBA and Spindlewood is a very exciting development as it brings together the talents and technologies of two leading companies. The combined team will deliver groundbreaking levels of service to our clients old and new. We will also be announcing new equipment features that will have a big impact on the event industry. We are looking to the future with confidence and renewed energy".

Charlie Brownridge added, "I am really delighted with this development! CBA Spindlewood will be uniquely positioned to deliver the most comprehensive product portfolio and at an unrivalled level of nationwide service. "

CBA Spindlewood Limited will be based at CBA's headquarters in Atherstone, Warwickshire with a northern regional office in Featherstone, Yorkshire.
